RESOLUTE AND VANITIE START IN SECOND RACE

Rye, N. Y., June 3.—A moderate southwest wind early today was more than welcomed by the cup defense candidates, Resolute and Vanitie, for their second contest in the preliminary series. Especially was this so after yesterday's double battle in which the yachts not only struggled against one another but fought baffling winds almost the entire race which the Vanitie won by 16 minutes and 48 seconds in elapsed time.

Just before the start the committee decided to shorten the course from 20 to 25½ miles. This makes the windward leg a trifle over 6¼ miles. The course was from a point a mile south of Great Captain's Island, light to a mark off Mott's Point on the west side of Hempstead Bay, sailed twice for the round and four times for the race.

Associated Press Boatmen Glen Cove, N. Y., June 3.—The race started, official time, as follows: Resolute, 12:16:50; Vanitie, 12:16:43.

The result on the first run to windward, gave the Resolute a lead of about a minute and a half over her rival. The Resolute held her lead to the leeward mark. The unofficial time was, Resolute 1:01:04; Vanitie 1:01:53. The race was then half over.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID TO MRS. ATKINSON

Services Are Held In Home of the Late David F. Read.

The last tribute of respect to the memory of Ellen Landon Wheaton, widow of John F. Atkinson, was paid today when funeral services were held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Barnum Read, 728 Park avenue. The home was recently the scene of the obsequies of David Barnum Read, the last of his family, head of the D. M. Read Co., merchant, banker and philanthropist. The services were held in the northeast drawing room of the mansion, where the body of the late David F. Read lay in state. A number of beautiful floral tributes surrounded the casket.

The brief but impressive service of the Protestant Episcopal church was used. Rev. Stephen Fish Sherman, rector of St. John's church officiating.

During the service, the South Church chorists, Mrs. Robert H. Read, Mrs. R. S. Martin, Louis D. Ginn and Joseph F. Wier, sang "Lead, Kindly Light," "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "A Sleep in Jesus."

The pall bearers were Judge M. B. Beardsley, George Comstock, David W. Thompson and George M. Baldwin. Members of the charitable societies connected with St. John's and Christ Episcopal churches, in which the deceased had been particularly active, attended the services.

The burial was in Mountain Grove cemetery in the Atkinson family plot.

Superior Court to Decide License Tangle

The superior court will be called upon to decide a fine legal point in John D. Smart's appeal from the county commissioners, which was filed today. Smart appealed when the commissioners granted a transfer to A. J. Gosch of 1783 Main street, who wanted to acquire J. B. McDermott's license. Smart claimed he had contracted for purchase of the license and was willing to complete the deal when he found that McDermott had sold the valuable document to Gosch.

HUSBAND NAMED AS ADMINISTRATOR

Charles E. Johnson was appointed and qualified in the probate court today as administrator of the estate of his wife, Florence F. Johnson. The latter was killed at a roundhouse, Fairfield, several nights ago by being run over by an automobile driven by Radcliffe E. Sprout of this city. Mrs. Johnson was formerly employed as a cashier in Luckinger's restaurant in Stratford avenue.

New Britain Kisser Gets Jail Sentence

New Britain, June 3.—Judge W. F. Mangan today sentenced Margos Margasin to fourteen months in jail for assaulting five young ladies on the streets of the city last Monday. The prisoner grabbed the girls and attempted to kiss them, succeeding in one instance. Physicians pronounced him sane but a degenerate.

A. M. E. CHURCH CONFERENCE OPENS

Prominent Negro Divines Elect Officers for Five Days' Session Here

(By Cleveland G. Allen)

Prominent divines interested in the promotion of the moral welfare and the advancement of the negro race addressed the assembled church workers at the opening session of the 70th annual New England conference of the A. M. E. church this morning at the A. M. E. Zion church, Broad and Gregory streets. From all sections of the state and the country, negro divines assembled to take part in one of the liveliest and most interesting sessions ever held in the history of the conference.

Bishop Alexander Walters of New York, the most prominent negro churchman in America, presided at the opening session, assisted by Bishops G. W. Clinton of Charlotte, N. C. and G. C. Caldwell of Philadelphia. Bishop Walters will preside at the other sessions of the conference, which is to continue for five days.

Many of the general officers of the church are present to participate in the conference. From the southern states many of the most distinguished of the negro pastors are present to plead for the exploitation of legislation that will tend towards bettering the living standard of the negro in the south.

The conference was opened with an official love feast, and the annual conference greeting. This was followed by the formal organization of the conference and the election of officers. Officers elected were: President, Rev. Dr. R. R. Ball, Hartford; assistant recording secretary, Rev. C. C. Alleyne of Providence, R. I.; statistician, Rev. Mr. Smith and conference reporter, Cleveland G. Allen. Committees were then appointed for the following year, conference claims collected and out of town delegates were introduced.

In the afternoon, the collection of conference claims was taken up. At the evening session, which opens at 8 o'clock tonight, the delegates will be formally welcomed to the city in an address by Mayor C. B. Wilson. Selections will be rendered by the A. M. E. Zion church choir of this city during the evening session. Rev. Duport LaFontaine, Rev. Charles W. Deane, and Rev. C. C. Alleyne will speak. A number of vital matters pertaining to the good of the church will be brought to the attention of the speakers during the evening by the delegates.

The assembly divines will be the guests of the Rev. W. M. Eley, pastor of the A. M. E. Zion church of this city. The conference will open its second day tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

POLICE OFFICERS HAVE ANNIVERSARY

Captain William Anderson of the Third precinct police station is today observing his 31st anniversary in the service of the city. He was appointed as patrolman June 3, 1883, and as sergeant October 1, 1888, lieutenant April 23, 1894, first lieutenant December 1, 1898, and captain June 3, 1909.

Detective Sergeant Peter H. Hall has been connected with the police department 21 years today. He was appointed to the department June 3, 1893, and detective sergeant July 15, 1910.

Doorman William H. White was appointed to the force 21 years ago today, was for a number of years side partner for Traffic Policeman Al Goulden and became a doorman April 1, 1913.

"POP" JENNINGS TO SEEK HIGHER HONORS

Announces His Candidacy For G. E. Leading Knight in the Elks.

Alderman H. H. Jennings of Hartford, past exalted ruler of Bridgeport lodge of Elks and at present grand esteemed loyal knight in the grand lodge is a candidate for grand esteemed leading knight at the golden jubilee reunion of the order which will be held at Denver, July 13 to 19. This is the second highest place of honor in the grand lodge. The new grand exalted ruler will probably be Raymond Benjamin of California, one of the greatest lawyers in the west.

Mr. Jennings' friends have begun a campaign in his interest. He was formerly a resident of Bridgeport where he was engaged in a number of theatrical enterprises. He is a charter member of Bridgeport lodge and its principal organizer.

He has been a member of the order 38 years. At the last reunion held in Rochester, N. Y., Mr. Jennings was chosen grand esteemed loyal knight. Since his election he has visited more than 50 lodges in the east and had charge of the institution of one new lodge, Williamite, No. 1,111.

The "Pop" Jennings, as he is often called, has a legion of Elks friends was proven by the immense vote he received at the reunion at Rochester when he was chosen esteemed loyal knight.

An attractive trip to the Grand Lodge reunion has been arranged by Hartford lodge and the journey has been approved by other Connecticut lodges. The party will leave Hartford, Thursday, July 9, at 11 o'clock in special Pullman cars.

Phillip J. McLaughlin, delegate of Bridgeport lodge and District Deputy Judge Martin J. Cunningham of Danbury, will join the Hartford party on this trip.

BRICKMAKERS WIN CENT AN HOUR BY LONG STRIKE

WANTS RAILROADS HELD LIABLE FOR SHIPPING LOSSES

Washington, June 3.—Senator Cummins' proposal that the Carmack amendment be rewritten so as to hold railroads liable generally for loss to shipments during transit was before the Senate today. In explanation of his bill, Senator Cummins told the Senate that the supreme court had held recently that the Carmack amendment making initial railroad carriers liable for loss of shipments, but not the intermediate carriers, was before the Senate today. In explanation of his bill, Senator Cummins told the Senate that the supreme court had held recently that the Carmack amendment making initial railroad carriers liable for loss of shipments, but not the intermediate carriers, was before the Senate today.

He asked for the passage of a law requiring railroads to pay the actual loss suffered by shippers except where the shipments were wrapped or the intermediate common carriers had granted permission for the making of rates on value.

Olivet Men's League To Hear Judge Carey

Jersey City Men Will Explain Commission Form of Government

The Men's league of Olivet Congregational church has added to its reputation of being one of the live church organizations of the city by the program arranged for Thursday night at the church. A cordial invitation has been extended to men interested in municipal progress. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock. Former Mayor E. T. Buckingham will be the toastmaster and there will be a musical program by the Criterion quartet. Alexander Howell will entertain with humorous recitations, and Assistant City Clerk Frank Brashwaite will give several of his parodies. Mayor Wilson will speak.

The speaker of the evening will be Judge Robert Carey of Jersey City. N. J., well known to Bridgeporters. Judge Carey will take "Commission Government" as his topic.

MISS MARION HOPKINS TO WED W. N. MACKENZIE

Announcement of Engagement Is Made at Card Party in Her Home.

At a card party given yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Marion Hopkins, of 21 Fremont street, in honor of Miss Helen Furness, who will become the bride of the Rev. Charles W. Findlay, the most interesting surprise was the announcement of the engagement of the hostess to William Nelson Mackenzie.

The announcement was made by means of long stemmed daybreak carnations to each of which were fastened two cards, one bearing the names "Marion and Billie."

The announcement was a delightful surprise to guests of the party. In the afternoon cards had been played, at which Miss Bessie Libby had proved her skill by taking the prize, a handsome chain of rose scented beads.

A suit, bearing the name, William Nelson Mackenzie, was presented to the bride-to-be by her father, Mr. W. N. Hopkins, and was graduated from the local high school with the class of 1912. She is a very charming young lady with a wide circle of friends by whom she is much esteemed. Mr. Mackenzie, who is likewise a very popular young man, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick J. Mackenzie. He received his diploma from B. H. S. in 1910 and will be graduated from Yale this month. As yet no date has been set for the wedding.

MISS PRICE TELLS WHY WOMEN SHOULD NOT VOTE

Visitors to Graves Ice Cream Parlors and to "Movies" Learn That Conditions Would Not Be Bettered by Vote of Women.

This afternoon Miss Lucy Price of Cleveland, Ohio, the energetic young anti-suffragist, spoke at several of the Graves ice cream parlors, giving many forceful arguments why women do not need the vote and showing that if they had it conditions would not be bettered.

She is visiting this city under the auspices of the Bridgeport Association opposed to Woman Suffrage and the progress of the anti-suffragists in having her speak in such public places where she can reach all classes of women is to be commended.

Miss Price, who is a newspaper woman of the middle west, speaks from practical experience and directs her talk especially to the working girl with whose condition she is intimately acquainted.

The interesting and convincing young speaker will remain in this city tomorrow and will talk at other picture houses, at Lane's ice-cream parlor and in the evening at the residence of Mrs. Rufus Bunnell on Main street, Stratford.

The meetings are free and will be of interest to all who do or do not wish the woman's vote. Miss Price is the guest of Mrs. Alfred Terry of Brooklawn place, who lives in this city.

Antonio Mura, son of a former Premier of Spain, seriously wounded Republican Deputy Soriano in a duel with swords at Madrid.

During May there were 209 less marriage licenses issued in Chicago than in May, 1913. The falling off is attributed to labor troubles.

The condition of Maurice F. Egan, United States Minister to Denmark, is much improved and he is expected to be soon out of danger.

Dr. Charles H. Baxter, resident physician of Blackwell's Island, was held in $2,500 bail, charged with selling cocaine to prisoners.

The degree of bachelor of arts was conferred upon George W. Ochs, editor of the "Philadelphia Ledger" by the University of Tennessee.

LEWIS DENIES HE WAS DRUNK WHEN AUTO HIT WAGON

Well Known Bridgeport Man Held In $500 Bail for Trial

Clifford J. Lewis of 1005 Howard avenue, manager of Harry Quinn's bowling alleys was released on $500 bonds and the case continued until June 25 when he was arraigned before Judge Bacon Wakeman in Fairfield on the charge of reckless driving while intoxicated.

While driving an automobile in the Southport about 9 o'clock last night within two hundred feet of where Mrs. Florence Johnson met her death two weeks ago, Lewis crashed into the rear end of a wagon, injuring Charles Rodery, Edward Post, James Brotherton, and George Barrett, all of Southport. The occupants of the automobile escaped injury.

Lewis denies the charge that he was intoxicated at the time of the accident and has a number of witnesses to verify the statement. He says that, at the point of the road where the accident occurred, large trees cast a shadow and with the weak lights of his machine, he did not see the wagon until he struck it. He further declares that no lights were shown on the rear end of the wagon as required by law.

Lewis was accompanied by Leo Best of this city, who went bonds for him today.

LAST ARGUMENTS UPON ANTHRACITE TRUST CASE HEARD

Philadelphia, June 3.—Final arguments in the federal suit to break up what the government claims is the largest and most powerful of combinations forming the alleged anthracite coal trust was begun in the United States court today. The defendants are the Reading company, a holding company, Reading Railway, Reading Coal & Iron company, Jersey Central railroad, Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal company, Lehigh & New England railroad company, Lehigh & Northern railroad, Lehigh & Hudson River railway, Lehigh and New England railroad and the directors of the Reading company, who are also directors in a number of the other companies.

The suit was filed in September, 1912, under the Sherman anti-trust law and the commodities clause of the act to regulate commerce.

The government seeks to have the Reading company and its directors declared a combination in restraint of trade and asks the court to dissolve the Reading company to dispose of its interest in the Reading railway and coal companies. The government also seeks the separation of the Wilmington and Northern railway from the Reading company; cancellation of the lease of the Lehigh and Susquehanna railroad by the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company to the Jersey Central railroad; the disposal of the controlling interest in the Lehigh & Hudson railway and the Lehigh & New England railroad, held jointly by the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company and the Jersey Central railroad; and the disposal of the Reading company of its controlling interest in the Jersey Central railroad.

Under the commodities clause, the government also pleads that the Reading railway, Jersey Central, Lehigh & Susquehanna and Lehigh & New England railroads be enjoined from transporting the product of their allied coal companies. The commodities clause prohibits transportation companies from carrying any product in which they have an interest.

Pressure breaks Lehigh Valley New York, June 3.—Opening—There was no evidence in the trading in stocks today of further liquidation such as depressed prices yesterday. The market held steady at the opening with a small volume of business. New Haven made up nearly a point of its recent loss on the first few transactions but subsequently relinquished its advance. Fluctuations otherwise were confined to small fractions save for a one point loss in sugar.

Noon.—Steadiness of the early market caused traders to take on stock in moderate volume and a fractional advance resulted. Shorts found it difficult to cover, outside liquidation having a strong influence. Pressure against Lehigh Valley was resumed to the accompaniment of bearish rumors regarding dividend prospects which, however, made little impression. The stock broke 2 points to 134 1-4, the lowest in many weeks, and toward noon the general list eased off slightly.

Domestic Troubles Don't Restrain Man From Selling Property

A man's domestic troubles do not restrain him from selling property, according to a decision handed down today by Judge Tuttle in the superior court. The court made this ruling in the suit brought by Katherine Socha of Stratford against Joseph Socha and August M. Brill. Mrs. Socha brought the action to set aside a conveyance of property in Hollister Heights from Socha to Brill. She declared Socha did not support his family and conveyed the property to Brill without consideration to avoid legal liability for his family troubles.

Brill claimed he bought the property from Socha and he brought suit to confirm his title. The court confirms Brill's title and finds in favor of the defendants to recover costs.

The Weather:—

Cloudy; Local Showers.

Money in man's pocket.

The man who buys one of these special suits, is at least $3.50 in pocket. Likely, he's $8.50 in. Is that worth while?

They are this season's suits from the shops of master tailors; from Kuppenheimer or from Hart Schaffner & Marx.

Their regular prices are $20 to $25. But we are helping those tailors to clear stocks—and our price to men is—

$16.50

Snappy or conservative style, medium or light color effects,—but every one an attractive worthy suit.

Some Norfolks among them.

Some suits with big part of lining cut out, to make them cooler. Only fine-tailored suits can be made that way. No other sort will hold in shape.

Main floor, rear.

Straw time.

And men's straw hats here a-plenty. Every good style and every likable weave of straw.

Panamas and Bangkoks and Leghorns; for men who like lightness and true comfort.

Fancy straws in taper crowns and mushroom brims and all those other novelties; for young fellows.

$2 straws $3 straws

$1.60 $2.40

Main floor, rear.

Blue serge for boy's "best."

Whatever the occasion when boy wishes to look his best, blue serge suit fills the bill.

And it gives good service, with its good looks.

If it's a Howland Double-Service suit, it gives extra service. It has two pairs of trousers; they make it practically two suits in one. One pair of trousers may be kept pressed and ready for special wear, while the other is being worn.

$5 to $15.

A few blue serges of unusual value.

Norfolks with full-length pleats and belted all around.

About all sizes, have been $12.50 and $15,—

$8.50 and $10

HOWLAND DRY GOODS CO.

Red Top, Conn., June 3.—Is the Harvard goat in the Yale crews' quarters at Broadview?

This was the question that made the crimson oarsmen knit their brows yesterday after they came in from a two mile paddle down to the navy yard and back. Word came to Red Top that the goat which is Harvard's mascot had reached New London from Cambridge by express and that it had been signed for and taken away in a launch by men from a training camp.

Coach Wray had all his crews out on the Thames river for easy paddling practice.

Gaffe Perry, June 3.—Light work was the extent of the morning work for the Yale crews, the varsity going down stream as far as the navy yard at a low stroke and the second varsity covering about a little over a mile down stream.

Asked whether it had been seen in the neighborhood, the crew men were non-committal regarding Harvard's mascot goat, merely remarking that it would be interesting to know where the animal went.
